HEADMASTER'S ADDRESS

To The Graduating Class:

To the graduating seniors of the John D. O'Bryant School of Mathematics and Science, I would like to take this opportunity to express my deep felt gratitude for making this a year that I will always remember and cherish. During the course of the school year I have been encouraged by what I have observed. Time and time again, members of the Senior Class have demonstrated that they have the will and determination to overcome the many obstacles that threatened to interfere with their high school education. They did not allow anything to keep them from accomplishing their goals and aspirations.

As emerging adults, you, as never before, are going to be beset with pressures and demands that range from the academic to the social - all of which require decisions and levels of maturity that are difficult, at best, and often devastating. With one foot in childhood, and the other in adulthood, you stand at a crossroad, and it is from this point on that decisions will be made that will impact your future. I have no doubt that you will be successful, if you continue to persevere.

It is fitting that as you enter the 21st century, you must continue to prepare yourselves for a world that will be quite different from the previous two decades. You must be prepared in the fields of Math, Science, and Technology, in order to compete in a highly competitive world.

The future of this country is at stake. President Clinton and his new administration have promised to provide the leadership that this country needs so badly. Your contribution is needed, and important, because you are tomorrow's leaders. You are not only the future, but also the hope of this city and nation.

Finally, I would like to congratulate the graduates for the multitude of achievements that they accomplished during the past 4 years, and sincerely wish each member of the Class of '93 the best of luck in all of your future endeavors.

Administration

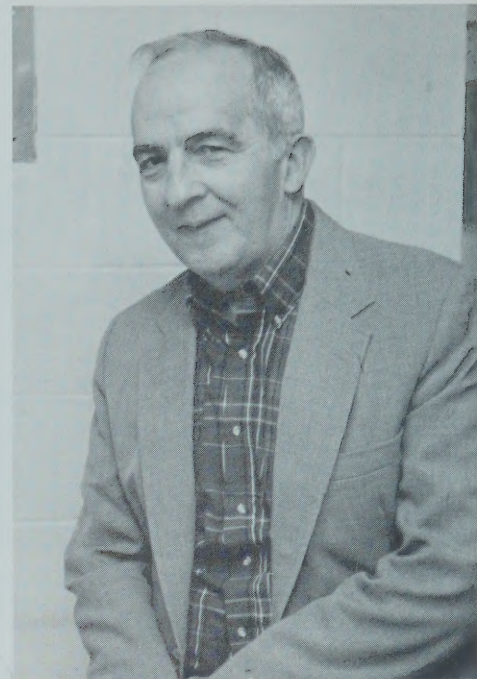

Best of luck to the class of 1993. I wish happiness to you all. Mr. Staples

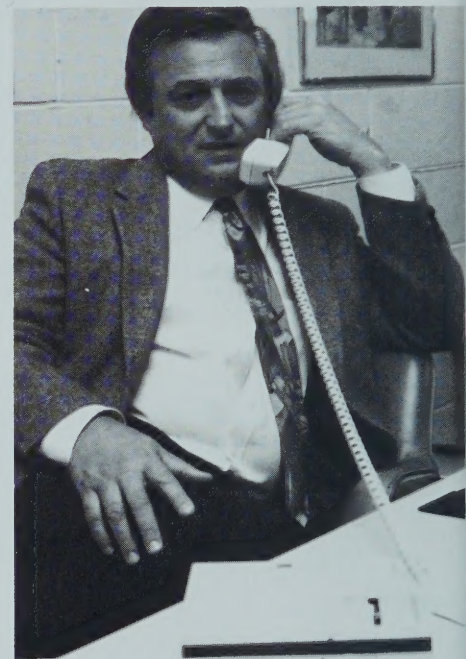

Congratulations and may you have continued success in all your future endeavors. Mr. Shevory

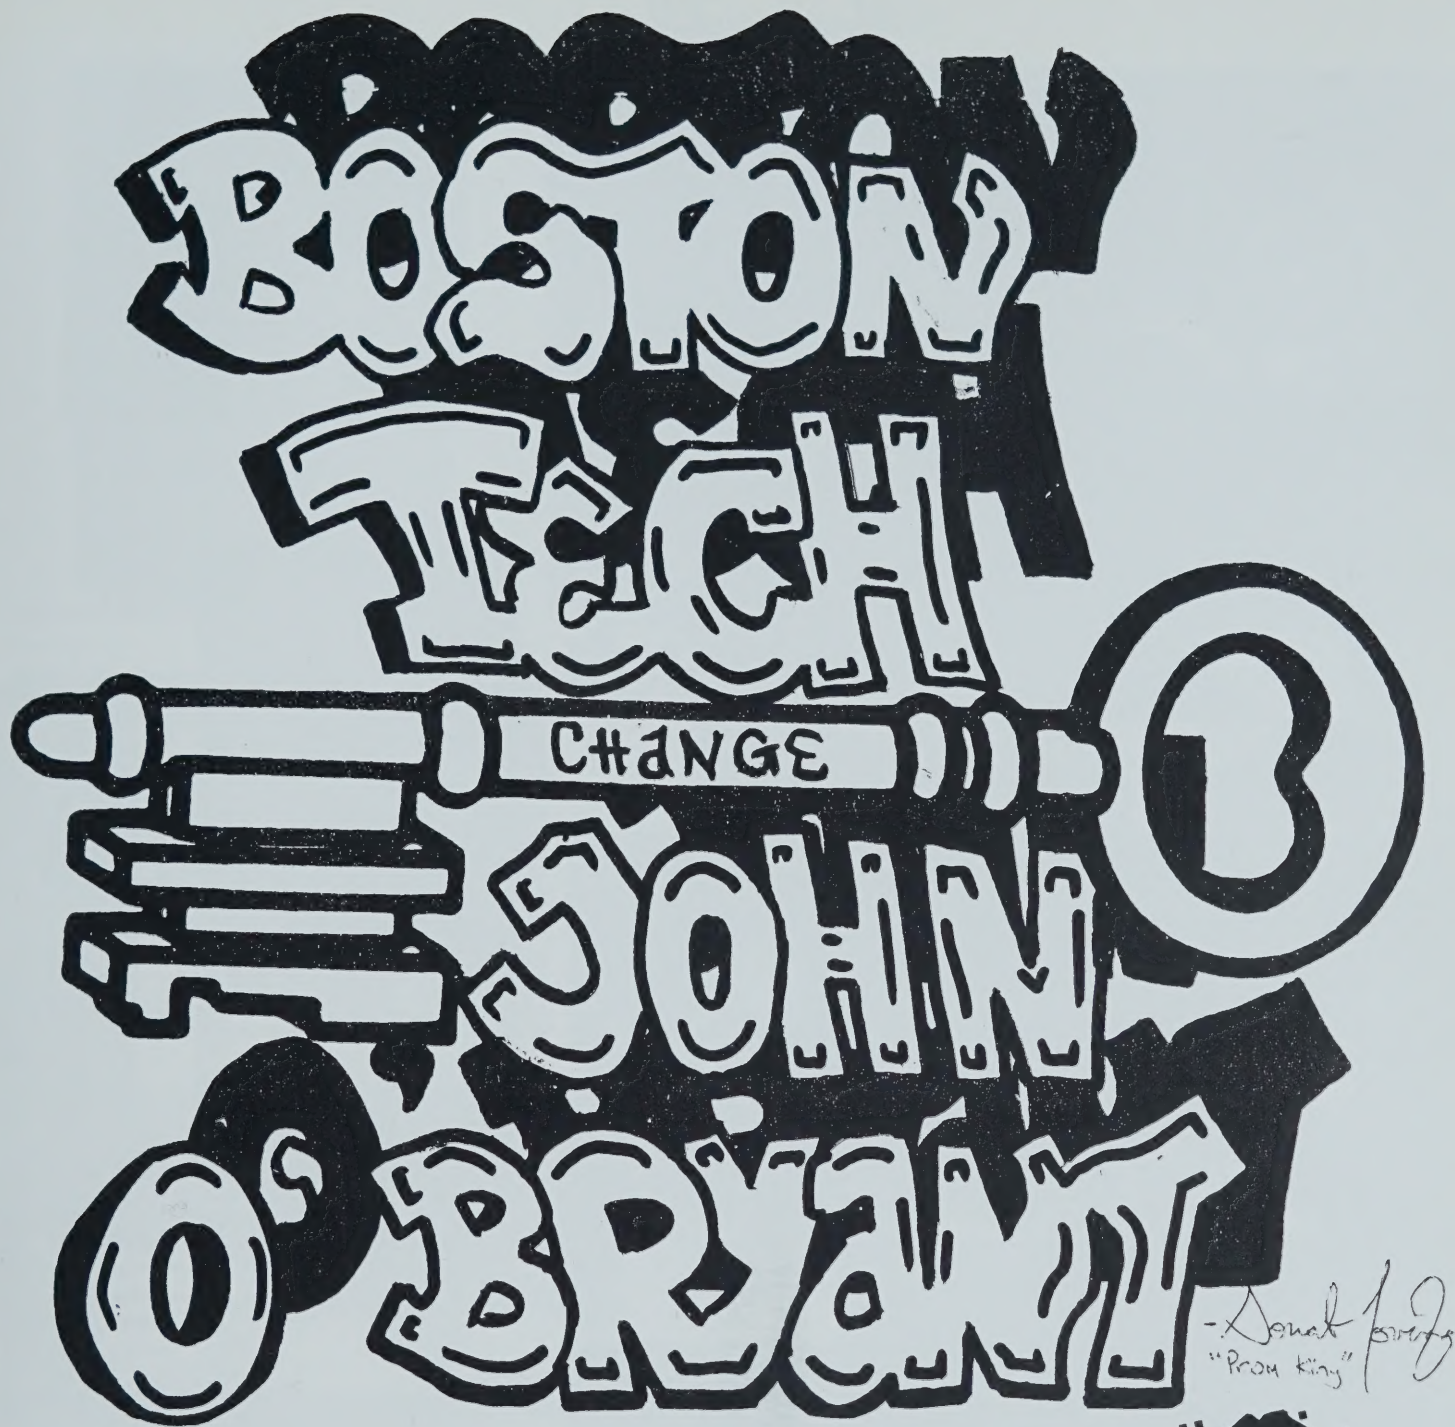

Best of luck, good wishes and hopes of success in all future endeavors. Mr. Kelton.

Best wishes to the Class of 1993, Congratulations! I wish you happiness and success in all your future endeavors. Enjoy life to the fullest. Mr. Sullivan.

To the class of 93,
Good luck and best wishes for the future, be happy, be successful, behave.
Love, Mr. Sacchetti

Remember the time, way back when,
Our lives were full of fun and laughter?

Remember the time, way back when,
High school seemed as far away as twenty foot high ceiling rafters?

Remember the time, way back when,
The building seemed a whole lot bigger?

Remember the time, way back when . . .
But times have changed and so have we.

Now we enter the next chapter of our story
Holding the key that leads to success
and glory
We will survive the tests of the years to come,
So that we do the right things from day
one.

Change is the key that opens the door
To the success the future holds in store.

Reflections

In the spring of '92 forty students committed themselves to the work of the yearbook. Most of them did not honor their commitments. To those who did, I offer my gratitude and appreciation. Without them this book could not have been made.

Special Thanks from Mrs. Gonfa to the following:

Calicia Beckles	Tiffany Brooks
Sheila Belot	Nadia Cyprien
Leah Charles	Jennifer Fredrick
Rose Lim	Cassandra Samuels
Sorrab Loving;	My right hand man

A Message From The President.

As I look back to when we were freshmen, I can say that we've certainly become more mature. This maturity has led us to work towards the realization and the attainment of our own hopes and aspirations, which will ensure us a prosperous and successful future. We have grown to have a better understanding of each other, not just needlessly disregarding other's races or personalities based upon stereotypes. We are uniquely unified. This is one of the things that makes us special. When we started here, many of us did not associate with one another, we did a solo act, each going his own way. Now, however, we seem to sing a song full of melodious harmony. Much of our accomplishments today, are a direct result of our dedication to each other.

There were many things that we would have liked to have seen happen that for various reasons did not. There were others we would have changed had we the power to do so. Yet, we have persevered through them all. Today we can proudly take our place in the world as members of the graduating class of 1993. Through the changes we've endured and other changes we've embraced, we have found the key to success. May we meet with courage, the challenges of tomorrow.

I love you, Peace,
Tanya Freeman-Class President

"Diversity"

A shimmering light in me has taught me first to seek
The special qualities of you that make the commonplace unique.

In that shimmering light I see
shades of our diversity,
Refractions, shattered images, prism
bent,
a rainbow, heaven sent.

Graduation

Behind The Door

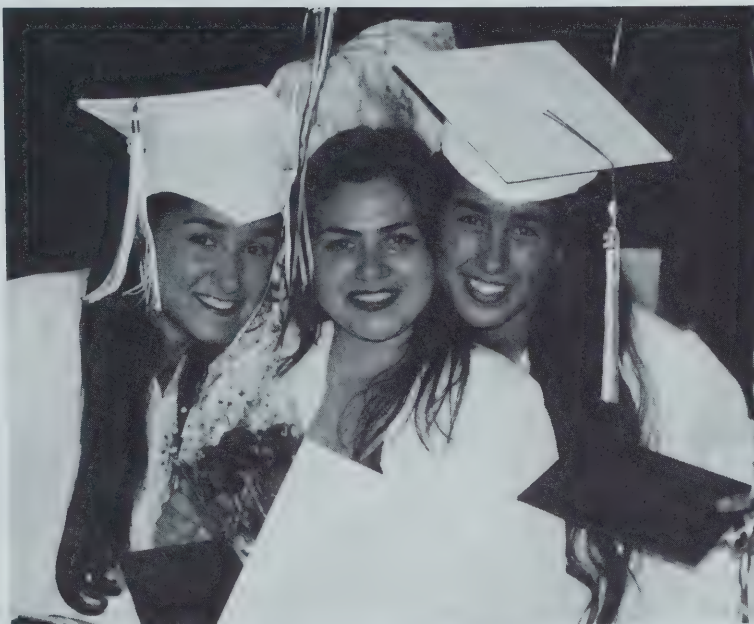

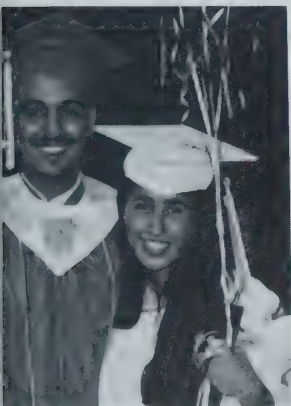

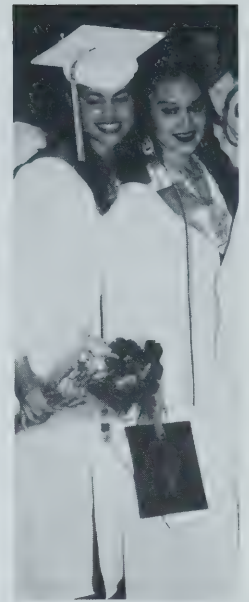

LOOKING BACK, I REALIZE HOW FAST THINGS IN LIFE COME AND GO. I'LL NEVER FORGET THE FIRST DAY I CAME TO TECH, A SHY THIRTEEN YEAR OLD WITH NO SENSE OF DIRECTION, NOT A FRIEND IN THE WORLD AND A SMALL, ENCHANTING KEY THAT UNLOCKED THE DOOR TO ALL THAT LAY WITHIN, A FIRST CRUSH, A NEW BEST FRIEND, FOUR YEARS OF MY LIFE SPENT GROWING UP, GRADUALLY OPENING THE DOOR, BIT BY BIT. THE PEOPLE WHO WERE THERE WHEN I FELT THE DOOR BECAME TOO HEAVY WERE ALWAYS THERE TO GIVE IT THAT EXTRA PUSH

YOU GO, BOY!!

"I MADE IT!!!!"

Presenting The Class Of '93

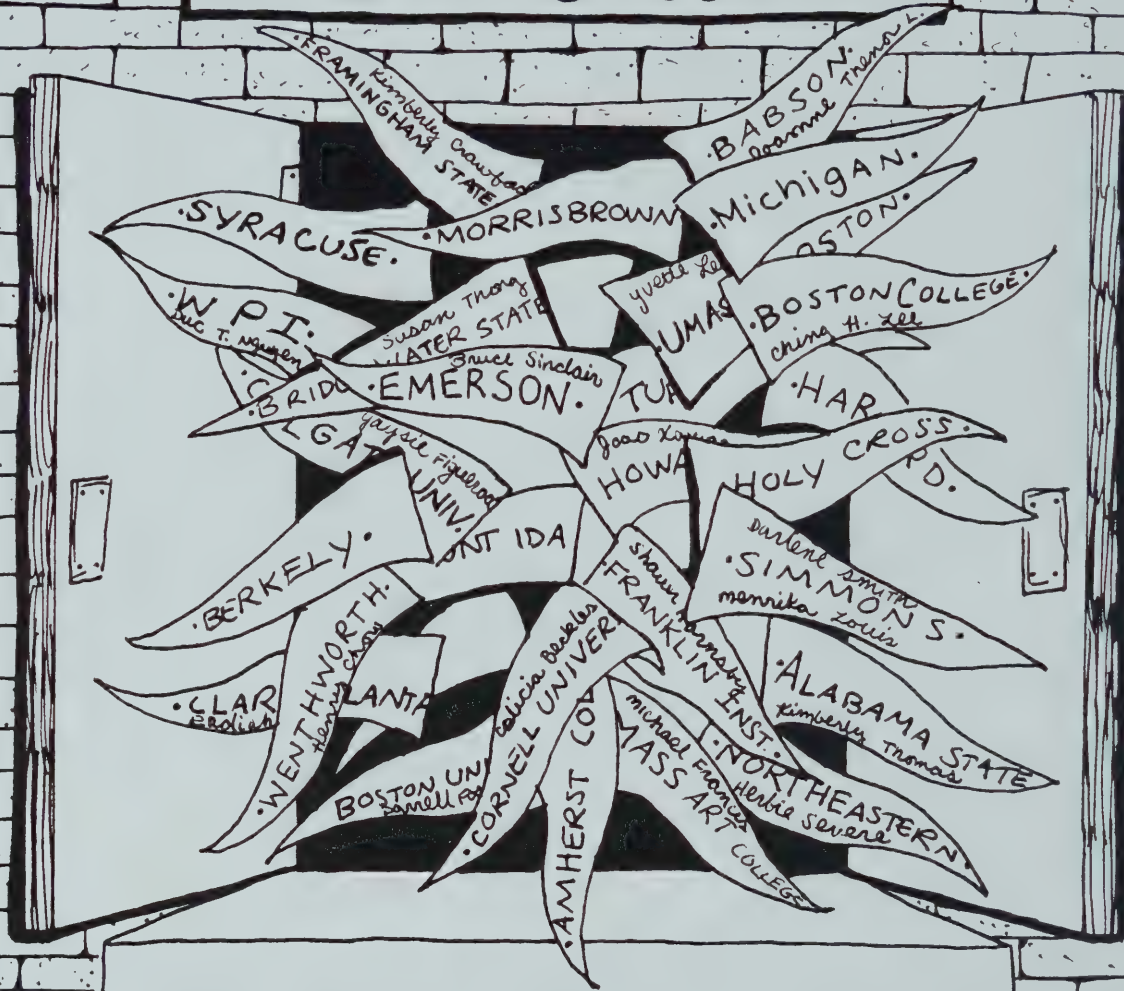

... NOW THE DOOR IS WIDE OPEN AND THE ROOM IS EMPTY, ONLY THE MEMORIES REMAIN, NO MORE TARDINESS, NO MORE GOOFING AROUND, NO MORE SPENDING TIME WITH THOSE I'D LEARNED TO LOVE THESE LAST FEW YEARS.

AS I SHUT OUR HIGH SCHOOL DOOR BEHIND ME, GENTLY TURNING THE KEY, I WILL TAKE WITH ME THE THINGS I'VE LEARNED TO TREASURE, LIKE LEARNING, FRIENDSHIP AND TOLERANCE . . NEW DOORS LIE AHEAD, BECKONING ME TO TOMORROW. I'M READY.

... an African-American man of unwavering integrity who believed "politics was the art of the possible."

As the first African-American member elected to the Boston School committee, Mr. O'Bryant toiled tirelessly in his advocacy for the school children of Boston. While serving as president for two separate terms, the second term he held until 1992, he consistently demanded fairness and equality. He was instrumental in bringing the first African-American School Superintendent and the present Superintendent of Schools to the city. In all the years he served, he strived to bring the people of all backgrounds together to work toward the common goal of providing a quality education to all the young people of Boston. This was the core of his life.

Mr. O'Bryant was also the first director of the Health Vocational Training Program at Dimock Community Health Center. He served as the Vice President of Student Affairs at Northeastern University. He founded and helped to incorporate such institutes as the Black Educators' Alliance of Massachusetts and the Black Political Task Force. He was also a founding member of Roxbury Multi-Service Center, The Bridge Fund Inc., and Roxbury Community College. Mr. O'Bryant achieved national prominence as the Chairman of the Council of Urban School Boards of the National School Boards Association. For 30 years he was Chairperson of the NAACP Educational Counseling Committee, Trustee of the Boston Hospital for Women, and an active member of the Museum of Science Board of Trustees. He was a pioneer in many ways.

We of the John D. O'Bryant School of Math and Science are proud to bear the name of such a distinguished, and noble man, and we still strive to walk in the shadow of his footsteps.

John D. O'Bryant 1931-1992

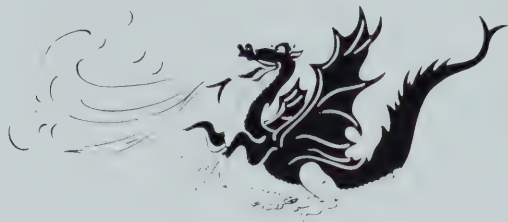

John D. O'Bryant was one of Boston's stalwart citizens, a voice of reason and an eternal advocate for education.

Mr. O'Bryant was born in Boston, Massachusetts and was educated in the Boston Public Schools, graduating from Boston English High School in 1948. He earned his Bachelor's and Master's degrees from Boston University. After serving in the United States Army, he began his career in 1955 as a teacher and later as guidance counselor at Boston Technical High School. During his counseling years, he inspired thousands of students. Forever young at heart, John was devoted to athletics, especially basketball, and remained active in the Old Timers' Basketball League.

The driving force behind Mr. O'Bryant's life was his family, his wife of thirty years, Cicily, and their sons, John, James, Richard, Paul and Bruce, and his son, Norman from a previous marriage. Mr. O'Bryant was not only a husband and a father, but also a mentor, friend, and confidant to his colleagues and the community at large who respected and benefited from this quality of character. Whatever the need, he would try to meet it. Whether it was meditating, providing references, lobbying, or bringing people together to meet a goal or resolve a difference, he was there. Mr. O'Bryant was a consummate politician with a steady hand and a willing heart
